Minding Your Business (MYB), is the training and consultancy arm of Surrey based charity, ESRA Ltd, providing Mental Health First Aid training and bespoke workshops / training to organisations throughout the country.

MHFA is valuable in providing education on a range of mental health problems along with reducing stigma and encouraging early intervention. MHFA does not intend to train people to become therapists, but to provide the non-expert with knowledge of the signs and symptoms of a range of mental health problems and the confidence to intervene when a problem is observed – comparable to the competency provided in physical 'first aid' programmes.
